Phase I: Moving from Ethereal Potential to Human Skin-School Reality

When you are deep in the thick of a challenging "skin-school" moment, how can you use your Power of Choice to shift from feeling victimized by circumstances to recognizing that you are actually standing in The Field of Infinite Potential?

What is the difference between wishing for a shift from the Cosmic Consciousness level and actually claiming it at the Material human level? How does that distinction change how you handle everyday human frustrations?

Phase I: Moving from Ethereal Potential to Human Skin-School Reality

Often, human consciousness wants a manifestation to appear instantly. What does the "Nurture" stage of the Trinity teach us about patience, and how can we comfortably sit in the gap between a thought and its physical reality?

Phase 2: Auditing Your "Currency" (Thoughts, Words, & Actions)

Think about a recent situation where you felt spiritually misaligned. If you look at that moment through the lens of your personal trinity, did the breakdown happen first in your thoughts, your words, or your actions?

Our words carry an immense energetic charge in skin-school. How can we become more aware of the "currency" we are spending when we speak about our limitations versus when we speak about our divine potential?

Phase 2: Auditing Your "Currency" (Thoughts, Words, & Actions)

Sometimes our thoughts and words are fully aligned with higher consciousness, but our physical actions lag behind. What is one practical way to force your physical actions to match the Ethereal intention you've set?

Phase 3: Mastering the Currency of Choice in the Present Moment

If the present moment is your only true time zone, how much of your daily "choice currency" is being wasted on past regrets or future anxieties? How do we pull that currency back into the now?

How can we use the MetaSpiritual Triple Trinity to navigate the human ego or our "Internal Bouncer" when it tries to tell us that we don't have a choice in a difficult situation?

Phase 3: Mastering the Currency of Choice in the Present Moment

What does a state of "Authentegrity" look like when all three trinities are operating in perfect alignment? How does a person showing up that way change the energy of the room they walk into?
